Engineering Scholarship*

I am Matthew Prak, a civil engineering student at Oregon State University. I have been honored as the recipient of this year's Allen A. Alsing Scholarship from the Oregon APWA Scholastic Foundation!

I am a junior at Oregon State University working towards a degree in Civil Engineering. I previously interned at Marion County Public Works, where I developed a passion for serving the public.

Once I graduate, I plan to pursue my professional engineering license as an EIT in the transportation engineering field. I hope to continue working on projects where I can have a positive impact on my local communities.
